

Paying for a $15 million northside elementary school will be of big discussion tonight when the La Crosse School Board meets to crunch numbers. Superintendent Randy Nelson dropped a very familiar phrase to us when talking about the issue.

\(Click for Audio\)

The board could take advantage of historically low interest rates when it borrows money for the estimated $15.7 million project.