

Local Reaction To Firefighter Ambush

Friday, 28 December 2012 10:28

Firefighters go through quite a bit of training every year...but being shot at is not part of the daily routine of training. We talked with La Crosse Fire Chief, Greg Cleveland about that.

\(Click for Audio\)

This on the heels of firefighters who were ambushed earlier this week while battling a house fire near New York. 2 of them died and several others were injured. Cleveland says it's a part of the job no one expects would ever happen.