

Lab Tests Not Complete Yet In WSU Student Death

Wednesday, 27 February 2013 12:28

The final report on how a Winona State student died may depend greatly on the results of lab tests...

Winona Police Chief Paul Bostrack is waiting for a lab in Ramsey County to release results of toxicology tests on 19-year-old Mitchell Grierson. Mitchell was a freshman studying communications at WSU. His roommate found him dead in their dorm room on February 17th. Bostrack believes the tests could take up to two months to process.
