

Kind Blasts Walkers Money Turndown

Wednesday, 20 March 2013 11:21

---

Congressman Ron Kind says the decision by Governor Scott Walker to turn down $37 million in federal dollars for a health care exchange last year will really cost the state in the long run. $36.1 million to small businesses.....$250 million over 10 years to taxpayers.....and there's more.

\(Click for Audio\)

Walker said he turned down the Early Innovator Grant, saying it didn't make sense to commit to reforms that could have a devastating economic impact. Kind says there's still time to take the money.