

Several key topics came to light after last week's Joint Committee on Finance meetings in Madison. Senator Jennifer Shilling, who's on the committee, says the Department of Public Instruction meeting, as she thought it would be, was a lengthy one.

\(Click for Audio\)

The committee has three more hearings with cabinet secretaries tomorrow before opening up the discussions statewide at public hearings starting April 4th.