The FBI now says they are looking for two men in the Boston marathon Bombings. That was released about 15 minutes ago.

(Click for Audio)

The explosions Monday killed three people and injured more than 180.

The images were released hours after President Barack Obama and first lady Michelle Obama attended an interfaith service at a Roman Catholic cathedral in Boston to remember the victims, including an 8-year-old boy.