

Social media - Another success story.

On Wednesday, the Tomah Police

Department spoke with and arrested a man for trespassing. He was released from jail and was arrested again by the Monroe County Sheriffs Department on Thursday for disorderly conduct.

Thursday night, a Tomah officer, while off duty, was looking over his facebook account and saw an article that was shared to him. The news release was from a Madison TV station indicating that the Grant County Sherrifs Dept was looking for an unknown subject that was in an around the Fennimore High School. The officer recognized the subject as being the person that was arrested twice this week.

Social Media Strikes Again

Friday, 26 April 2013 07:31

The Grant County Sheriffs Department was given the subjects name and his current location now is the Monroe County jail.