

Marchbanks Ready For Charges, Could Go To Jail Next Month

La Crosse County is ready to file attempted murder charges against a man who was shot during a standoff in March...

Keith Marchbanks will make a court appearance by phone on Thursday, because he's not able to leave the hospital yet, and has to use a wheelchair.

La Crosse County Sheriff Steve Helgeson says Marchbanks could be sent to the jail sometime next month. An Onalaska policeman shot and wounded Marchbanks when he came toward officers with a large knife, outside his wife's house at West Salem.
