

A push in La Crosse to allow more businesses to get off the grid. The city is considering whether to support the so-called Clean Energy Choice, a legislative initiative pushed by the Wisconsin Business Alliance to allow businesses to contract with other companies to run their renewable energy add-ons

\(Click for Audio\)

Lori Compas, with the Wisconsin Business Alliance, pushing lawmakers to adopt the Clean Energy Choice. Utility regulators in the state are strongly opposed to the idea.