

Pretty apparent that La Crosse County is making significant strides to improve the health of all county residents. That was recently shown when the county received a 28th ranking of healthiest county for children out of 1,200 nationwide. Lindsay Menard, County Health Planning Coordinator, talks with us about the rankings.

\(Click for Audio\)

Some of the indicators used to determine how healthy a county is for children included birthweights of infants air quality, teen birth rates, access to healthcare and access to parks.