

A long line of critics want change to La Crosse's no wake policies on the Mississippi River in front of Riverside Park. Dozens showed on Monday night in the La Crosse county administrative center to push the harbor commission towards a recommendation of dumping some wake restrictions. Dennis Kaufman, from Onalaska, is one who spoke to the commission

At this point, the harbor commission is considering only changing the dates between which the no wake rules are in effect.