

One person was stabbed this morning during an early morning fight and La

Crosse Police are asking for your help to find the stabber.

Just after 2 this morning, officers were called to the area of 900 Clinton Street for the report of a fight in which one person was stabbed. When they got there, they found the victim, who had been stabbed a couple times in their arm and leg area. That person was taken to a local hospital with non life-threatening injuries. The suspect had fled the scene prior to the officer's arrival.

The victim's identity is not being released at this time, along with any other information as the incident continues to be under investigation by the La Crosse Police Department.
