Monday, 08 July 2013 11:39

La Crosse police are still searching for a 20 year-old they suspect of beating up one woman and stealing the purse of another. Cops believe Makalya Anderson is in town somewhere. They suspect her of beating up another woman who was chasing Anderson down on the northside this week-end over a stolen purse. That woman got her purse back but she also wound up with all sorts of injuries from the beatdown. Another woman is still missing her purse and a couple hundred dollars inside. Again, Anderson is the suspect. She appears to have no permanent address.
