

Some frustration appears to be brewing over construction plans for the interstate 3 exit on the northside of La Crosse.

Northside business owners have asked for a meeting with the DOT over a preferred plan for reconstruction that some fear will have a major negative impact on some businesses. exit 3 Design work is mostly done on the project that is set to run through 2017 but some are hoping the DOT will select a more business-friendly alternative. Meeting on exit 3 is today at one at the Black River Beach House on the northside.
