

Naked Man at Window Cited

Monday, 05 August 2013 12:42

A polite reminder to the guy in the window near the library in La Crosse: close your curtains. Cops say they had to give that one to a fellow who was standing naked at his window facing Burns park and yelling something lewd and suggestive to a woman in the park. Police found the 58 year-old at his apartment watching porn. He answered the door naked. They cited the guy for indecent behavior and told him to keep his naked self away from the windows.
