

The public will get a chance to sound off this week on a new set of bills that would create tougher penalties for drunken drivers. The Assembly Judiciary Committee has scheduled a public hearing for Thursday on the measures, which would, amongst other things, let police be able to seize drunken drivers' cars and require mandatory court appearances for accused drunken drivers. La Crosse County D.A. Tim Gruenke asks who is paying for all of it.

\(Click for Audio\)

The committee isn't expected to take any action but will listen to public comments on the proposals.