

Church Seeks Council Approval for Bells

Tuesday, 13 August 2013 10:41

Never send to ask for whom the bell tolls, because, soon, it will be tolling for members of the English Lutheran Church in La Crosse. The church, if given the okay by the city council, will begin erecting a bell tower this fall. A religiously practical addition, says English Lutheran's Paul Sannerud

\(Click for Audio\)

The tower will have three, electronically controlled bells. A gift to the church from one of its members. The city council votes on the bell tower at meetings next month.