

Sewage Rate Increase Delayed Again

Wednesday, 21 August 2013 08:42

La Crosse wastewater utility customers are catching another break. The city will again hold off on implementing a second tier increase in sewage rates. It's the third delay for the second phase of a three part increase. Because the utility is in a good cash position right now, says mayor Tim Kabat, and simply doesn't need the money. That could change

\(Click for Audio\)

Four years ago, a 29 percent, three-phase sewer rate increase was approved by the city.