

Missing Man Found Dead Near Gillette Street

Wednesday, 11 September 2013 19:18

The search for an endangered man in La Crosse leads to his body...

At least three boats were brought to a landing on the La Crosse River today, before rescue crews discovered the body of 34-year-old Matthew Stewart. A search for Stewart in the Gillette Street area began this morning, and concluded a few hours later. Police are still investigating Stewart's disappearance, and are awaiting results of an autopsy.