

Two From La Crosse County Dead In Iowa Crash

Monday, 26 July 2010 11:15

A treacherous curve on an Iowa highway apparently has claimed four lives this weekend...including two people from the La Crosse area.

Joseph Vinopal Junior of La Crosse and Heather Althiser of Onalaska were killed along with two people from Iowa when their car rolled several times in a ditch. The Iowa State Patrol says Althiser was the only person in the car wearing a seat belt. The other three were thrown from the car. Because of many crashes there over the years, a family living near the curve reportedly has tried to get the speed limit reduced, or to have warning signs put up nearby.