

Four Burglary Suspects Nabbed In Onalaska

Friday, 04 October 2013 16:42

Four people have been arrested in Onalaska for a series of garage and car burglaries...which apparently all happened on one night.

The four young men were released from jail after appearing in court this afternoon. Police investigator Chad Marcon said a surveillance video from one of the victims helped officers identify the suspects.

Money, electronics, and jewelry are among the items stolen during the break-ins reported on September 19th. At least three garages and seven cars were targeted.
