

For months before Mary Burke became an official candidate for governor of Wisconsin, Governor Scott Walker's party was taking aim at her. The state Republican Party has labeled Burke as a 'Madison millionaire,' and as a candidate already chosen by Democratic party leaders to win the primary. When Burke campaigned in La Crosse this weekend, she didn't discourage others from getting into the primary:

\(Click for Audio\)

Burke also spent some time talking with business operators from the La Crosse area.