Thursday, 24 October 2013 12:29

Get ready for a marketing campaign, to explain the new ticketing system in La

Crosse's parking ramps...

The city parking utility board is reviewing designs for flyers that will be made public around the time that the ticket gates are turned on...which won't be for a few weeks yet. The flyers will warn drivers that a car left in a ramp for more than 48 hours will be considered abandoned, and will be towed.
