

Will students and staff of UW-L use all 600 spaces in their new parking ramp?

Somewhat doubtful says Charlie Weeth of the Grandview-Emerson Neighborhood Association. He explains why.

\(Click for Audio\)

Weeth says the university is already planning to build two more levels onto the just completed parking ramp. A move he says still won't deter people from parking in every neighborhood around campus. For free.