

Three months after losing their home in an electrical fire, a Galesville family is preparing for a benefit this weekend.

The fundraiser on Saturday at the American Legion in Holmen will help Onalaska policeman Dan McCluskey, his wife, and their son. Recently, McCluskey was given a check by a local Lions Club to help him feed and house his K-9 partner, a dog named Czak.

Besides helping the McCluskeys recover from the fire, Dan's supporters will be raising money for hospital bills. Megan McCluskey is recovering from cancer surgery, and son Aidan is scheduled to get a kidney from his father next year.
