

Stricter Pet Limits Could Wait in La Crosse

Tuesday, 03 December 2013 22:49

New rules on pet numbers appear to be on hold in La Crosse. After a Tuesday meeting, the city's animal control governing board has recommended against immediate action on a plan by city councilman Ryan Cornett to lower the number of allowable pets in a household to three total dogs and cats. A city council committee has agreed to put off decisions on the pet limit ordinance for a month.
