A purchase agreement that would spur the next big development in La Crosse has been given preliminary approval by the city council. Site of the former Trane 6 plant on the northside is okayed for sale on Tuesday to 360 Real Estate Solutions for about two million dollars. Meanwhile, another development downtown appears to be on hold. A fourth Riverside Center building to complete Don Weber's campus downtown. Still some things to work out with that, says Weber

Weber expects to make a decision on a fourth building within six months.
