That was La Crosse School District Buildings and Grounds Supervisor Joe Ledvina on September 6th.....and it is our ninth biggest story of 2013. The tear down and building of a new northside elementary school. After over 1500 community surveys on school buildings came back, the school board approved the project and awarded the $14 million bid to Fowler and Hammer. An excited Superintendent, Randy Nelson...overseeing his first ever new school being built...told us that timing is of the essence now.
