

There's still time to protect yourself from the flu, but it's up to you to get immunized. That's what state officials are saying, after we learned this week that Wisconsin had the 47th lowest vaccination rate for adults ages 18 to 64. Kelly Dickson with Mayo Clinic Health System says she was taken back by those results.

\(Click for Audio\)

As of last Thursday, almost 600 Badger State residents were hospitalized for the flu.