

A town hall meeting is planned in the Brice Prairie area next week...for the purpose of approving a new town hall. The current Onalaska town hall is too small for the town government's needs. There had been discussion of expanding the existing hall, which was built as a church in the 1800's. But now, a commercial building close to Highway 35 and O-T is favored by town board members:

\(Click for Audio\)

That's Onalaska town chairman Rolly Bogert. He's hoping to get quick approval from town residents at the meeting next week, so offices can be moved to the new site before the regular March board meeting.