

Tomah Fugitive Captured

Tuesday, 31 August 2010 21:10

Tomah police have captured their fugitive. Friday, near midnight, 45 year-old Mark Page went on the run after a routine traffic stop brought out the Tomah K9 unit and the dog apparently hit on some drugs in his car. Page was arrested but escaped. Cops tracked him to his apartment and thought they had him cornered but he slipped through their net and was on the lam for a couple of days, possibly in La Crosse, before turning himself in at the VA in Tomah yesterday afternoon. Police have dealings with Page in the past in which he brandished a weapon at them.
