

Suspects In Florida Murders Jailed In Winona

Thursday, 02 September 2010 11:36

Sounds like two murder suspects caught at a state park near Winona this morning won't be staying in Minnesota much longer...

James Howze and Lonnie Munn will not fight extradition to Florida, to face charges that they killed three members of a family during a home invasion last week. Law officers found the men sleeping in a camper at Whitewater State Park early today. A third suspect in the murders was captured last week in Florida. Munn and Howze were traced to southern Minnesota, when they used an automatic teller machine in Winona County.
