

La Crosse mayor Tim Kabat has touted the rehab of neighborhoods since he started running for the office. Seems fitting he would be the one to host the city's first Mayor's Neighborhood Conference. Great idea, says city council rep and Neighborhood Revitalization Commission chair, Sara Sullivan the Neighborhood Conference runs through tomorrow morning at the city's Black River Beach building with presentations including one by the police department on how to make neighborhoods safer.