

Walker to Sign Fertilizer Bill in Cashton

Thursday, 17 April 2014 09:09

Wisconsin farmers will get a tax break after governor Walker signs a bill this afternoon. The measure gives farmers a sales tax exemption on certain fertilizer and grain drying equipment at a cost of a million and a half dollars per year to the state's budget. Walker is scheduled to sign the fertilizer tax cut at Cashton Farm Supply Specialties in Cashton today.
