

Sure, they have fruits and vegetables...but there's also music and crafts, and lots of other attractions. The Friday farmer's market at La Crosse's Cameron Park opens for another season tomorrow. The market has filled all its slots for vendors for this season, with a few new people offering products:

\(Click for Audio\)

Nell Saunders Scott is an organizer of the market, beginning its 14th season. She says the Friday time period works out so well, they haven't thought of trying it any other time of the week.