

The garbage police coming in La Crosse? Considering the amounts of big items, electronics and random bags of garbage left curbside, don't be surprised, says city public works director Dale Hexom

\(Click for Audio\)

Hexom says even blatant disregard for recycling laws could eventually result in tickets that could run as high as a couple hundred dollars with court costs.