

Car Theft May be One in a Series

Tuesday, 26 October 2010 16:19

A La Crosse 15 year-old is in hot water after going for a joy ride in a stolen red Cadillac. La Crosse cops busted the high schooler after a short car and foot chase yesterday. They say he nabbed the Caddy from parking lot at a Trane company building. The theft is now part of a larger investigation after the kid told police he got the keys for the car from someone named "Big Mike," though there's no indication yet of who that might be. Police are trying to determine if this car theft is linked to others in the area.
