Vandals struck the City of Holmen last night.

Holmen School Superintendent Dale Carlson tells WIZM news his staff found the front of the high school had been spray painted sometime last night or early this morning. He could not release what exactly was painted on the building.

Holmen Police Chief, Mike McHugh, says that they have received some tips as to who the perps may be....and at the same time are looking at school video surveillance tape.

In a letter to parents, from High School Principal Bob Lecheler, other places around the village were also been vandalized
