

One address, two drug arrests, one child in protective services. Police say that's the score after a man and a woman were arrested at a place on Island street in La Crosse. Cops say 42 year-old Carol Thompson and 24 year-old Jonathan Marlowe have been busted for running a drug operation out of their home. Both face multiple charges after a sting involving an informant. Cops say they found a gallon bag half full of marijuana at the home. They also had to call protective services to care for a two month old child they found there.
