

New video of the Viking's Metrodome roof collapse was to be released Thursday by the Metropolitan Sports Facilities Commission. New MSFC chair Ted Mondale compared the 60-second security camera video of the Metrodome collapse to The Blair Witch Project.

Meanwhile, as folks there continue to discuss building a new roof.....scheduling headaches are an every day occurrence now for high school and college baseball teams that were to play in the dome this year. Take UW-L's baseball program.

Head baseball Coach, Chris Schwarz. He says they rescheduled about 6 games and double headers....better than some teams that may have to reschedule as many as 15 games.
