

Waterfront Planning Meeting Tonight in La Crosse

Wednesday, 16 February 2011 11:20 -

Another chance tonight to get involved in riverfront planning in La Crosse. The Joint Board of Harbor commissioners is holding a community meeting at the Black River beach Neighborhood Center on Rose Street this evening to work on future harbor plans for the La Crosse with an eye to providing community access to the riverfront. It's the second of three meetings on the riverfront plan and runs from 6:30 to 8:30 at the Black River Beach center.
