

Angry Woman+Car+Boyfriend=Night in Jail

Love means never having to say, "sorry for trying to run you over." Which may leave a La Crosse woman with some explaining to do. Police say Ebony Cade tried to run over her boyfriend Sunday evening after finding him with another woman. Cops say Cade also ran into a car the couple just bought together. She faces serious charges, denies trying to squish her boyfriend with the car and also explains the evening by saying she just "wasn't thinking."
