Citywide, alternate side parking tickets in La Crosse saw a big drop-off this year over last. But, in one particular area, they doubled. The alternate side parking exempt test area around UWL went from eight hundred tickets written last winter season to over 16 hundred this winter. In the test area, cars can ignore alternate side parking rules except in snow emergencies and during other road maintenance times. Throughout the city, about 17,600 ten dollar alternate side parking tickets were written. Down significantly from the 19,700 or so written last year.
