

In a tunnel, under the highway...

Was that where you would have looked for the Oktoberfest medallion? Paul Hoch of West Salem checked in a tunnel near Hixon Forest today, and found the medal on the fifth day of the hunt. This is only the second year Hoch has tried to find the medallion.

Clues pointing to Losey Boulevard and the Boy Scout headquarters led Hoch to the medallion's hiding place. The reward for finding it is 500 dollars, and tickets to the Festmaster's Ball.
