

Recall backers in Wisconsin feeling good this week.

Especially after Tuesday's vote in Ohio which repealed that state's new restrictions on collective bargaining for public unions. Essentially the same reason behind a recall push for governor Walker. And the two really are similar, insists service employees local 180 union president in La Crosse, Rich Smith

Smith thinks the Ohio win will also mean bigger spending in the recall race by labor unions..