

Fight Over City Administrator Begins Tonight in La Crosse

Tuesday, 29 November 2011 10:51 -

Tonight the city council debate about a city administrator begins in La Crosse.

A proposal getting committee hearing tonight would add a top manager to city hall and strip duties from the mayor. Councilman Dick Swantz says the proposal is not targeted at current mayor Matt Harter

Swantz says a city administrator certainly would not come without costs, but he believes the position would also make government run more effectively and make for better long range planning in the city.
