Friday, 02 December 2011 11:33 -

The state elections' agency and the Justice Department say they'll work together to review complaints about the circulating of recall petitions. In the meantime, Wisconsin Republican Party Executive Director Stephan Thompson, says complaints have poured into the new Recall Integrity Center Dot Com website about the recall petition process. Some right off the internet.

The complaints stem from the efforts to recall Governor Scott Walker, Lieutenant Governor Rebecca Kleefisch, and four state senators.
