

Possible Dolowy Murder Suspect Still Being Studied

Thursday, 05 January 2012 13:10 -

A new 'person of interest' was scheduled to be interviewed this past fall about a cold-case murder in La Crosse County...

Sheriff's Captain Kurt Papenfuss says an interview has been done, and a DNA sample could be obtained to see if the man is connected to Terry Dolowy's death. But they're not much closer to charging anyone with the 1985 murder of Dolowy. Her headless body was found burning in a ditch, and DNA was taken from her remains a few years ago. Papenfuss tells us that in order to bring a new perspective to the case, an investigator in the D-A's office is reviewing the files on Dolowy's death.
