

Democratic Senator Kathleen Vinehout is calling out Governor Scott Walker on his plan to remove the cap on the state's Family Care plan. She says the financial numbers don't add up and has requested to see the books on the plan.

The state's long term care program for the elderly and disabled could soon cover thousands of additional needy residents, if the Legislature approves the $80 million expansion proposed by Walker.