

Governor Scott Walker, for the first half of his state of the state address last night, talked about jobs and job creation. The second half was devoted to education. State Representative Steve Doyle says he knew all that would be in the speech. But one word that was hardly spoken is what troubles him.

The La Crosse Democrat said instead of giving out false job improvement numbers, the Governor needs to look at legislation that he and several other democrats have out there....that would create jobs...and not cost a dime. Legislation that has support from both sides.
